"No one can take away from you the merits of your success and the promise of your future. We are proud to be a part of it."

Professor Peter Miller, Director, Undergraduate Programs

To the Undergraduate Class of 2004:

I want to congratulate you on successfully completing your undergraduate business program here at the Odette School of Business. Whether you yet realize it, these past four years will have been the most important (and possibly the most enjoyable) four years of your lives. The friends that you have made and the knowledge that you have acquired here will greatly influence your journey into the future. To enhance this journey, keep in contact with these friends and use this knowledge as a base for acquiring new knowledge. Over the years, I have probably helped in excess of 5000 students get to the place where you are now. Some are now my neighbours and some are bringing their children back to the University of Windsor for their education. We, as professors, would like to know how well we have prepared you for a business career. So, please keep in contact with us as well.

Again, congratulations on this accomplishment of yours.

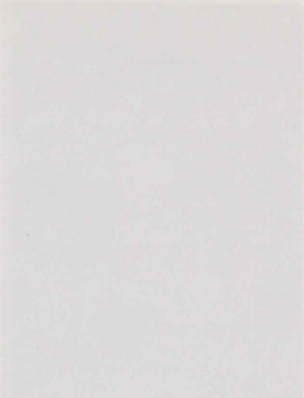

Dr. Julian Cattaneo,
Director, Graduate
Programs

To the MBA Graduates of 2004

As I write these words only a couple of weeks of classes remain in the Summer term of 2004. If all goes as expected, some 40 students will qualify for their MBAs by the end of August. Another 37 completed all program requirements in time to receive their diplomas at the June Convocation, and 40 students in the MBA for Managers and Professionals completed their course work at the end of June. That's about ten dozen energetic persons and keen minds ready to make a difference. Feel very proud of your accomplishment. We expect that the world of business will be improved by your contributions over the years to come. We trust that you will maintain the friendships you developed during your time at the Odette School of Business and that you will return in the future to share some of your experiences with your successors. Thank you for your contributions during your time in the program and please accept my very best wishes for happiness in your lives and great success in your future endeavours.

R. Julian Cattaneo, Ph.D.

For many years, the Commerce Society has been serving students and it has been our pleasure. The executive committee is made up of elected volunteers and we are charged with the task of putting your money to good use by planning events and making improvements to the school in order to make your time at the Odette School of Business that much more enjoyable. As well, we spend countless hours in faculty committee meetings standing up for student's interests.

This year, our mission was to provide fun activities for students and to make the school more visible in the community. Through events like Stressball and our meet and greet barbeques, we hope you had a chance to get to know some of your classmates and professors a little better, and we trust events like the Mock Stock Exchange helped the community see that we are serious about giving back to charities that mean something to us. We hope you had a great year, and that the best is still yet to come and we wish that when you look back on your time here we gave you some experiences that helped you along the way. Cheers!

Students around Odette

Learning
inside and outside the classroom

Throughout the year, students are given the opportunity to learn both inside and outside the classroom. By offering everything from special lecturers to how to behave at a business dinner, students are encouraged to become as well rounded as they possibly can be.

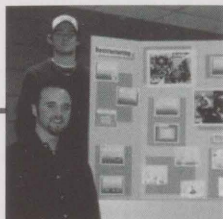

Melissa Pearce and Chris Sullivan receive the CMA Canada Leadership award from Deb Clarke and Garrett Mozzon

Students who received scholarships and students on the Dean's List are recognized for their academic achievements at a reception

Mock Stock Exchange

This year, the Commerce Society raised $1000 for the United Way by organizing a Mock Stock Exchange for the Odette School of Business. Students and faculty, armed with a fixed amount of Odette dollars, traded and sold stocks in eight fictitious companies in order to generate the most wealth. The event winners were the team consisting of Professor Warren Keller, Justin Lajeunesse, Melissa Pearce, and Ryan Renaud who after the last bell came in with a total of $92,000.

U.B.G 2004

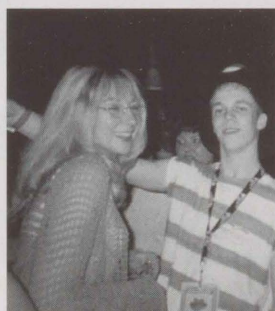

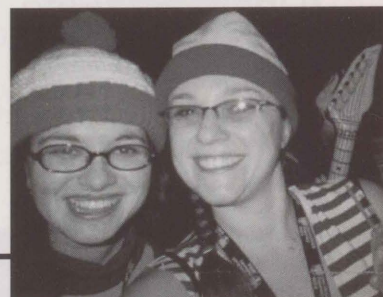

This year over 865 delegates from across Canada participated in the Undergraduate Business Games and Dalhousie Business Conference. Our team, while not winning a single event, showed an amazing amount of school spirit, made lasting connections with business students from every province and answered the age old question: Where's Waldo?

Stressball has been a tradition within the business school for five years and is a great opportunity for students to unwind before the stress of exams begins. While it has grown from a purely social event to an evening full of networking opportunities and awards, the event has fast become the biggest business party of the year!

Debating
NAFTA and The North American

Automotive Industry

Students from the Odette School and the Mendoza School of Business at Notre Dame University faced off in two debates this year, one at each school. Panels of judges from the local business community acted as judges for the debates which examined issues like future technology, government policies and the environment. While everyone on both teams benefited from the experience, our students proved without a doubt that they are the master debaters!

SOCCER

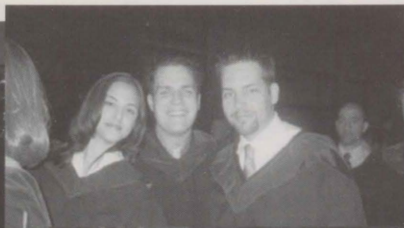

The MBA Storm's soccer season came to a hard fought end, losing in a tight 3-2 loss in the semi-finals. Making it so deep into the playoffs is a tremendous achievement especially with so many players that were new to the game of soccer. The team truly came together and developed into a cohesive unit. It was a fun, and rewarding experience for all. Captain Jamie Murphy would like to give particular thanks to all those who helped to organize and manage the team. Another debt of gratitude needs to be given to all those who came out and cheered us on from the sideline. The weather was not always superb, yet still a strong contingent of fans were always present. Thanks again everyone for a great season!

MBA GAMES 2004

The Odette School of Business MBA's participated in the 16th annual national MBA Games, hosted by York University from January 2 - 5. Odette was represented by 38 students, a mixture of 1st year, 2nd year and fast track students, all of whom participated in a combination of academic, athletic and spirit events. The 500 or so students that participated in this year's Games came from universities across Canada to compete; Ontario, Alberta, B.C., Quebec, and Nova Scotia were among the provinces that had constituents at the Games.

BEACH Volleyball @ Sandcastle

The MBA students began March Madness with an event at Sandcastle Recreation Centre on Friday, March 5, 2004 where fun times were had on the basketball courts as well as on the indoor beach volleyball courts. 25 students participated in an afternoon of good, clean, competitive fun. The springtime festivities continued on with a pub night at Faces to honour St. Patrick on Wednesday, March 17, 2004. Pizza was served and green beer was poured as once again the good times flowed all around...

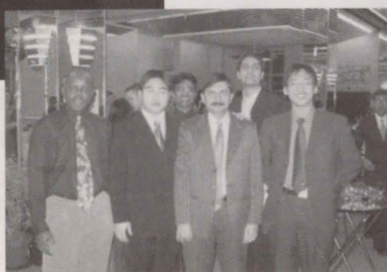

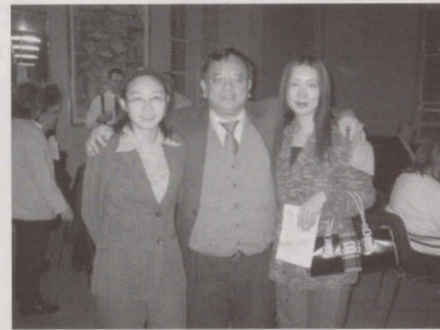

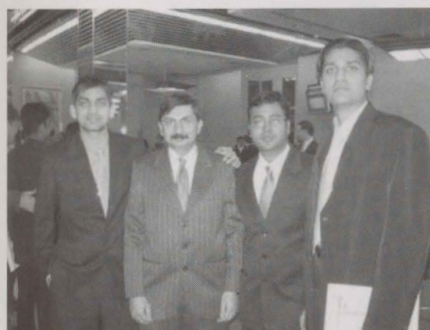

ST. PATTY'S DAY

Backpack 2 BRIEFCASE

The Next Step: Backpack-2-Briefcase was a student-driven event held in January 2004, where students from business and law were learning that mom was right --- table manners do count! The Odette school of Business recognizes the importance of professional development in launching the business careers of their students. How Odette students present themselves enhances the image of both the School and the business community as a whole. First impressions are vital to building solid relationships. Many business deals and job interviews are finalized over a meal. To help the students with their professional polish the evening consisted of mastering the business meal, wine etiquette, dressing for success and what not to wear to that important interview. Special thanks to Barb Barone for a wonderful evening!

Formal Organizers: Barb Barone & Jackie Ralbosky

The MBA Formal was held at Caboto Club on Friday, March 26, 2004. The night included a murder mystery event over dinner! Thanks go to Showcase Players for the entertaining event!

In addition, the coveted Professor of the Year Award went out to both Professors Dave Bussiere and Keith Cheung. Normally, the position is singular, but this year, the two tied for the honour. A total of 71 MBA students voted from a field of 31 faculty members, all of whom taught an MBA course between the summer 2003 and the winter 2004 semester. Other top vote-getters were George Lan, Martha Reavley, and Ata Assaf. Last year, Dr. Gerry Kerr received the honour.

Other awards presented that evening included the Made a Difference (MAD) Award to Vincent Georgie, recognizing his outstanding contribution to the MBA program, and the PEP Award (perseverance, effort, and participation), given to MBA students in each year who have made an impact on their fellow students. The individuals were voted on by students in their respective programs. Certificates of Nomination were handed out to the 2 runners-up.

The PEP winner for first year was Ian Lam (who also organized the slide show!), the runners up included Carla Harris and Geoffrey White. The second year PEP winner was Jackie Ralbosky, and the runners up were Nofel Gewarges and Rebecca Fahringer. Lastly, the PEP winner for Fast Track was Vincent Georgie, with the runners up being Chris Fredette and Tom Brennan. Costa Constantis handed out the awards, as well as a special autographed jersey from the MBA Games to Dean Hussey, to show the Society's appreciation.

Special thanks to Barb Barone for the endless hours she invested in helping to plan and organize the event and to Nofel Gewarges for rounding up our benevolent sponsors who generously donated items for the silent auction: Freeds of Windsor (Ari Freed); Chapters (Richard Darby & Aimée Charette); Rogers Video (Steve Bauer & Brodie Lidkea); Royal Bank (Kimberly S. Watters & Zyna Gewarges); Shoppers Drug Mart (Sylvie LeCavalier); Big Dick's Tap & Eatery (Rich Kingsley); and the MBA Society.
